

ERPsim™

by BÄTON

Business simulation for real-world success

ERPsim is the only business simulation to run on a live SAP system. Participants interact in real time in SAP S/4HANA, complete with the latest Fiori interface.

Showcasing the value of intelligent technology and end-to-end integration, ERPsim provides a real-life experience that accelerates digital adoption.

Multiple use cases

ERPsim is a versatile solution with diverse applications - before or after implementations, upgrades, or migrations. Simulations can be used for testing, or to evaluate new solutions or business models. And whatever the use case, the result is faster digital adoption.

Training End Users

Demonstrating

Preparing project Teams

Organizational Development

Learning hands on in a real system was priceless!

We had super users right along with senior executives getting really into it. The competition was a fun component, but so was getting to see how SAP was a truly integrated system real time.

— Cristie L. Price, Organizational Change Management, Columbia Sportswear Company

Broad business and industry coverage

ERPsim offers a range of simulations to suit your business and industry. Competing to win the biggest slice of the market, teams work across the entire cash-to-cash cycle.

Distribution

Manage the purchase and sale of wholesales products, using real-time reports to track business performance in an unpredictable competitive market.

Impactful with executives in retail/distribution across industries.

Manufacturing

Participants manage the cash-cash cycle of a small manufacturing company, including planning, procurement, manufacturing, sales, marketing and finance.

Popular with manufacturing companies and for full day trainings.

Public Sector

Experience funds & budget management, procurement, spend and monitoring of your program effectiveness in a generic Public Sector process.

Applicable to public sector and defense organizations.

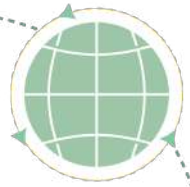

Logistics

Make strategic business decisions to maximize profit and reduce costs by managing your inventory and moving it between regional warehouse.

For teams that manage demand in several regions.

DO YOU NEED MORE REASONS?

1 Real-life simulations in real time

ERPsims engages your people in exciting real-world simulations. Teams compete to solve real business problems, working together in real time. Instantly seeing the impact of their decisions on the business at large, employees quickly grasp the value of end-to-end process integration.

2 End-to-end business perspective

ERPsims provides a unique perspective into the end-to-end workings of your business. Experiencing diverse roles, participants gain valuable insight into the needs of the business units they serve. This big-picture view highlights the benefits of enterprise-wide integration.

3 Proven business value

The value of ERPsims has been widely proven in academic research. But the most resounding endorsement of all comes from our customers themselves. Serving a diverse range of businesses across multiple sectors, ERPsims is already supporting digital adoption in companies all around the world.

Offered in 5 languages

Present in +60 countries

+500 certified instructors
From SAP & Partners

ERPsims™

+2000 events in the last 5 years

Used in +250 universities

